It starts with data…

And that data becomes the information that is so vital to the success of every State and Local Government agency today. Information is used in a variety of ways - from measuring constituent satisfaction to ordering products to guiding agency plans.

Many departments don't have the time, money or the resources to collect and manage data, let alone turn it into actionable information. For the past 12 years, Pearson NCS has worked with many organizations to provide efficient, accurate, image- and Web-based solutions for converting data into usable information. Common applications that utilize our imaging solutions include:

- Time & Attendance
- Employment Applications
- Training, Testing & Certification
- Public & Employee Surveys
- Enrollments & Registrations
- Traffic Stop Reporting
- Voter Registration

Total Imaging Solutions

We offer our customers the ability to collect data from multiple sources including paper, fax, e-forms, and the Web. We help you collect your valuable data and turn it into accessible information; information to help you make the most important decisions. We provide hardware, software, and services all integrated into a total solution tailored to meet the needs of your business. Pearson NCS' total imaging solutions include:

- Electronic Data Capture
- Document Storage and Retrieval
- Professional Services

Electronic Data Capture
The NCS Accra™ forms processing system automates the process of collecting data from paper forms, e-forms, faxes, and scanned images. It extracts data from the form image and presents the character to intelligent recognition software. The system interprets the character and presents the computer representation to other application software for processing.

Document Storage and Retrieval
Once the scanner creates the image of the form, it is available for the archival and retrieval system. Pearson NCS is an authorized reseller of Legato, Inc.'s XtenderSolutions® software. ApplicationXtender® provides users the ability to easily search and retrieve the exact information they need via desktop or browser. By making these images available from your desktop, it reduces costs and boosts productivity versus manually searching file cabinets for information.

Pearson NCS' Professional Services
Pearson NCS' Professional Services are essential for a total imaging solution. Highly trained and experienced technicians bring together all components of the total solution. They provide planning services to ensure the solution meets your specific needs; implementation services to ensure all components function together; and support services to keep the solution running smoothly into the future.
